

PACIFIC PRO
WRESTLING

Shazza McKenzie battles Madison Eagles for the Women's Title

"TV's Iron Jay" Ben Coles with Pacific Pro fans

Who Are We?

Pacific Pro Wrestling was formed in 2012 by Chris Dalglish and Mark Dalglish.

Chris Dalglish's first involvement with wrestling came in 2008 as a referee. Chris has worked with international wrestlers from Japan (Shadow Phoenix and Mensore Oyaji) and the USA (Chris Hero and Adam Pearce). Chris has a history in IT, previously owning Aquila Computer Services and handles the technical aspects of Pacific Pro events as well as the video production.

Mark Dalglish has a long history in the Fastener industry, previously owning Partners Engineering Supplies Queensland and working as a Sales Representative for many years. Mark was also one of the top cricket umpires in Queensland and Secretary of the Ipswich Umpires Association. Mark is also a lifelong wrestling fan. Mark handles the security and finances of Pacific Pro Wrestling

Chris and Mark's first event was in early 2012 working with PROWL Wrestling. The event led to a doubling of PROWL's attendance figures and retained fanbase. Following this event Chris and Mark decided to create Pacific Pro Wrestling and their own brand of shows.

Robbie Eagles counters Mitch McCarthy

Jake Nova anticipates Mystery's kick

What We Do

Pacific Pro Wrestling runs family-friendly pro wrestling shows featuring some of the best wrestlers in Australia. We have $10mil Public Liability insurance provided by Arena Underwriting. A certificate is available upon request.

The first Pacific Pro Wrestling show was held on February 16, 2013 at Bundamba State Secondary College. Pacific Pro has been drawing regular attendance from the Sunshine Coast to Gold Coast and even as far west as Oakey (west of Toowoomba).

Our social media presence makes this possible through successful use of Facebook, Twitter and YouTube. All of our shows are recorded in high-definition and the footage used for promotional videos and photographed by Just Julie Photography.

Pacific Pro shows use only the best talent in Australia. Pacific Pro Wrestlers have wrestled in the United States, Japan, New Zealand, Canada and England. Pacific Pro Wrestling was also involved with the SupaNova Pop Culture Expo event on the Gold Coast in April 2013.

The giant Kyote is helpless against Ryan Eagles

ZERO takes down Josh Haze

Contact Details

Chris Dagleish
0413 228 499

Mark Dagleish
0423 805 094

Email: info@pacificprorestling.com

www.pacificprorestling.com

Facebook: Pacific Pro Wrestling

Twitter: @PacificPro

YouTube: PacificProWrestling

Referee Matty T holding the Pacific Heavyweight Championship